The open-air horse show of the Deep Run Hunt Club, to be held in the State Fair Grounds Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, is an event of prime social importance to which the smart set of Richmond is looking forward with great interest.

Boxes at the grandstand are being sold to many of the fashionable society contingent, and will doubtless be filled with parties including all the buds and belles, with their beaux. As Riverside Club, of Petersburg, will be associated with Deep Run Hunt in the horse show, it is highly probable that Petersburg society will divide the honors of the beauty show in the boxes with Richmond.

The open-air features of the show will be specially attractive, and will revive vivid memories of days when the spring meets in Richmond brought before the public eye the finest horses and riders, and the prettiest women in the world, women who could appreciate the good points of a racer and were openly the colors of the gentleman who had won their favor and who could ride his horse himself to the winning goal.

In those long ago days there was great preparation for the ball which came after the races. It was generally held in the Eagle Hotel, on Main Street, then the centre where elegant assemblies gathered and merrily in silken attire, high-heeled slippers and daintily coiffed tresses, was a vision of delight as she trod a minuet with her attendant cavalier, or swept down the ballroom to the measure of the gay Virginia reel. The gentlemen, too, in those days were picturesque figures in their ruffles, their laces, their velvets and satins.

In this year of grace, however, Virginia matrons and maids, at the horse show and the annual lawn party of the Deep Run Hunt Club, will challenge comparison with any who have gone before them.

The setting for an open-air entertainment at this season of the year cannot fail to be beautiful. The lovely lawns worn will match the spring flowers in hue, and the club colors displayed by the gentlemen will invest the picture with distinctiveness.

Tables placed here and there on the lawn and verandas for the pleasure of parties of friends and guests of the club will introduce a needed touch of animation to which music will give a finishing charm.

Another social event of the week over which every one is enthusiastic is the Blues' ball, to be given in Masonic Temple on the evening of May 11th.

The Blues have given many elegant affairs since their organization, more than a hundred years ago. But they propose on to-morrow night to dispense all other entertainments of which they have been hosts, and win for themselves additional lustre in the line of social as well as military achievement.

Ball Reception Committee.

Among those asked to form the committee of reception at the Blues' ball are Governor and Mrs. C. A. Swanson, members of the Governor's staff, Miss Mary Custis Lee, Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. J. Taylor Elyson, Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, Mrs. Alfred Gray, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Royal, Colonel W. Gordon McCabe, Colonel and Mrs. Barton H. Grundy, Captain John Lamb, Colonel and Mrs. John K. Branch, Colonel and Mrs. J. Scott Parrish, Colonel and Mrs. Henry C. Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Willard, Lieutenant and Mrs. R. Glazebrook, Lieutenant and Mrs. Carl Boschen, Lieutenant and Mrs. Joseph Le Masurier, Mrs. Ellen Wise Mayo, Mrs. Peyton Wise, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Mayo, Colonel and Mrs. Cuthberts, Mr. C. O. Cowardin, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bryan, Mr. John P. Branch, Colonel and Mrs. A. S. Buford, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Levin Joyner, Mr. and Mrs. Archer Anderson, Captain and Mrs. George Ahlbe, Mr. and Mrs. William H. White, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Mayo, Mrs. Mary Pegram Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Baskerville, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Tucker, Major and Mrs. L. A. Bowles, Captain and Mrs. Clarence Wyatt and Captain Floyd Kent.

In all, more than a thousand invitations have been sent out in Richmond, Virginia and other States, including one to President Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt.

A german, danced after the reception, will be led by Colonel Jo Lane Stern.

Woman's Club.

On Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock Miss Jane Addams, of Hull House, Chicago, will address the members of the Woman's Club.

Hostesses of the afternoon will be Miss Lannis Munford and Miss Anne Watson Archer, who will dispense lemonade, assisted by Miss Alice N. Parker, Mrs. W. A. Witherspoon, Miss Helen Weidman and Mrs. L. R. Dashiell, Mrs. W. J. Leake and Mrs. J. C. Robertson will preside over the tea table, with Mrs. R. H. Lindsey, Mrs. Corydon Sutton, Mrs. J. W. Harrison and Miss Lou Leigh as assistants.

Engagement Announced.

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles Peyton Scott, of No. 513 Virginia Avenue, Barton Heights, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ada Lewis, to Mr. Luther Gale Coghill. The wedding will take place in the home of the bride on Tuesday, June 24.

A June Bride.

Captain and Mrs. John Ambrose Hutchison announce the engagement of their daughter, Emily Welford, to Mr. Brooke Nelson Jones, the wedding to be celebrated the 19th of June.

Carson-Conrad.

The wedding of Miss Eleanor Carson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs.

Daniel Burr Conrad, of Winchester, to Judge Adam Clark Carson, associate judge of the Philippine Supreme Court at Manila, P. I., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Carson, of Riverton, this State, will be celebrated at 8 P. M. May 12th, in Christ Episcopal Church, Winchester, the Rev. William D. Smith officiating.

The church will be decorated with American Beauty roses and dogwood blossoms, the house with snowballs, red tulips and roses. Miss Bessie W. Conrad, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids—Miss Elizabeth Worthington, of Washington; Miss Lucile Weems, of New Orleans; Miss Jennie Strother, of Dublin, Ireland; Misses Gussie Conrad, Frances Peyton Page and Evelyn Tucker McGuire, of Winchester—will wear white mull gowns and carry American Beauties.

Mr. William Carson, of Riverton, brother of the groom, will be best man, and the groomsmen, Mr. W. Davis Conrad, of New York; Richard Evelyn Byrd, Jr., of Annapolis; Dr. Stuart McGuire, of Richmond; General C. B. Edwards, of Washington; Mr. John Wise, Jr., of New York, and Mr. Carpenter, of Washington.

The bride will come in with her brother, Mr. Daniel Burr Conrad, who will give her in marriage. She will be gown in hand-embroidered chiffon satin and have a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her veil, a family heirloom, will be of point lace, held with orange blossoms.

A reception immediately after the ceremony will be tendered about 300 relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom. Out-of-town guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hughes Telford, of Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Randall, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vredenburg, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. McNell, of Front Royal, and Mr. and Mrs. William Carson, of Riverton; Hon. and Mrs. H. St. George Tucker, and Mrs. Randolph Tucker, of Lexington; Governor and Mrs. C. A. Swanson, and Judge Tracy, of Manila, P. I.

Arrangements Completed.

Ben Greet's manager has about completed arrangements for the appearance of the Woodland Players in this city on Monday, May 11th, at 8 o'clock, in the yard of the old Van Lew home, in future to be known as the Chimborazo Sanatorium, and under the auspices of the Retreat for the Sick, the matinee performance, "As You Like It," will begin; and at half-past 8 o'clock "Much Ado About Nothing" will be presented.

Mr. Greet's interpretation of Shakespeare's plays is unique, in that he endeavors to do away with all artificial decorations, and presents them as far as possible as they were presented in the time of the great dramatist.

With no decorations or surroundings save natural ones, with the blue of the sky above them and the grass beneath their feet and the drooping limbs of the old trees on either side, the players are surrounded with only natural beauties, and their acting is, in consequence, of so fine a quality as to make one forget the lack of the familiar stage decorations of the day. Their costumes are of the style of the Renaissance, which helps to complete and make perfect the production.

Tickets are on sale at the Y. M. C. A., Rosemary Library, Shenandoah Pharmacy, Dr. Miller's, Shields' drug store, Craig's drug store, Noide's bakery, W. D. Crenshaw's, Briggs's, Straus's cigar store, Jefferson Hotel, Shepherd's, T. A. Miller's, Childress's drug store and McCoy's drug store.

Dundee Garden Party.

One of the most attractive of the spring out-of-door entertainments scheduled for this week will be the garden party to be held at "Dundee," the home of Mr. Preston Carson, on Tuesday evening from 8 until 11, for the benefit of the building fund of the Church of the Good Shepherd, which is being erected at Forest Hill.

Midnight, a fine quartet to sing plantation songs, a fortune-telling tent, fancy-work booth, candy booth and cream and cake are among the attractions that will make a car ride out from town worth while.

The ladies of Forest Hill hope that their friends and the well-wishers of the new church will liberally patronize what promises to be a most delightful entertainment.

Travellers and Music.

On Friday evening the young ladies of the art department of the Woman's College and their friends spent an unusually delightful evening hearing Mrs. Janet Stuart Durham in one of her travelogues, and Mrs. Frank Duke play the violin.

Mrs. Durham, having spent eight years abroad, speaks from personal experience, and having a delightful sense of humor, her talk sparkled with wit and fun. Mrs. Durham also has such a charming way of imparting information her hearers are never conscious of effort in gaining this knowledge.

Her talk Friday evening was upon

Munich, and she looked most attractive in Bavarian peasant costume.

Mrs. Frank Duke with the violin, and Mrs. George H. Whitfield at the piano gave several delightful numbers. Mrs. Duke is a great favorite in Richmond, not only because of her fine playing, but also because of her graciousness in sharing her beautiful art with others.

Mrs. Whitfield is very sympathetic in her playing, and is always welcomed with pleasure as an accompanist.

The college was enthusiastic Friday evening, and hopes to hear all of these ladies again.

To Meet Next Thursday.

The annual meeting of the Mount Vernon Association will open Thursday next, May 14th, at Mount Vernon and continue through the ensuing week.

Mrs. Charles B. Ball is the vice-president for Virginia, and will represent the State at this as at other meetings.

Last Week's Gossamer.

Miss Charlotte Miller gave an informal tea on Tuesday last in her home, on West Avenue, to her house guest, Miss Mary Donahoe, of Fairfax. Miss Miller and Miss Donahoe were assisted in welcoming callers by Misses Sadie and Walter Jeffress. Pretty drawing room decorations were in spring flowers.

An informal dance given at Lake-side Country Club Wednesday evening by the younger society men proved a most enjoyable affair. It was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. E. O. McCabe, and those present were Misses Daisy Boykin, Edith Taylor, Caroline Renolds, Elsie Lindsey, Julia Joyner, Jeanie Taylor, Wardell Crenshaw, Meta Randolph, Anita Cussens, Mary Hoge, of Lexington, Ky.; Martha Robinson, Rosalie Jones, Cora Younger, Julia Moore and Louise Bondar; Messrs. John Parrish, Dewey Cooke, William R. Trigg, Charles P. Stokes, Robert Mun-
